An intensive and comprehensive seven-year curriculum covering the following topics:

- ◆ The Talmudic orders Nashim and Nezikin.
- ◆ The Even Ha-Ezer and Hoshen Mishpat sections of the Tur and Shulchan Aruch.
- ◆ Extensive in-depth and comprehensive studies in Tanach.
- ◆ Jewish Philosophy.
- ◆ Enrichment courses and symposia on general topics, such as: psychology, sociology, public speaking, Jewish law and medicine, Shabbat and technology, Israeli and International law.

The curriculum prepares students for certification as dayanim (Rabbinic judges) and rabbis of cities, and to serve as Ramim (lecturers) and deans on college level and graduate level yeshivot. Certification as a dayan is officially recognized as a Ph.D. equivalent.

Areas of Activity

Beit Midrash

- ◆ Within our beit midrash, nearly 40 Torah scholars are studying for Yadin Yadin certification, while concurrently serving the Jewish people in Israel and the Diaspora through the activities listed below. At all times, stress is placed on the unifying and "pleasant" ways of the Torah.

Educational Programs

- ◆ Over 150 men, women and teenagers from Jerusalem and the vicinity, attend weekly classes, including retirees and people who do not consider themselves observant.
- ◆ Rabbis from the Diaspora, especially members of the Rabbinical Council of America, come for personalized short-term and long-term periods of enrichment learning in the beit midrash.
- ◆ Every week, nearly 20 young men from the United States visit the beit midrash to study with the young rabbis from Eretz Hemdah. These students return to American universities with a greater knowledge of Torah and a deeper feeling of Zionism.

Mishpat VeHalachah BeYisrael: Rabbinical Court for Monetary Matters

- ◆ The court serves the general public, adjudicating a wide range of matters, from small claims to issues of modern commercial life.
- ◆ Advice is also available on drawing up contracts in accordance with halachah at beitdin@eretzhemdah.org.

The Responsum Project: B'mareh Habazak

- ◆ Halachic responsa are sent in response to queries from community rabbis and rabbinical courts throughout the Jewish world. The responsa deal with all four sections of the Shulchan Aruch and call upon the "fifth section" (the wisdom and sensitivity to properly apply the law), as well. So far the B'mareh Habazak responsum project includes more than a 1,000 responsa.
- ◆ Until now, six volumes of the responsa have been published.

Ask the Rabbi

- ◆ Answers are provided via internet to questioners around the world on topics across the full spectrum of Jewish thought and practice. The questions reflect the range of topics of concern to Jews in the Diaspora, including those who have no connection with rabbis or Jewish communities. To date, more than 10,000 replies have been sent out.
